

Curiosity drives innovation.

We are the #1 supplier of extruded polymer profiles in the European market. We intend to keep it that way.

Innovative Solutions for Cars and Trucks

With more than 100 years in the polymer industry it is safe to say that we know, live and love the material. We provide a wide range of advanced and customized solutions that seal, damp and protect critical applications. Our broad Trelleborg network ensures that you will find us close by, no matter where you are.

Our mission: Ignite your business

We work closely together with OEM customers and provide everything from in-house compound development to design assistance and modern production techniques as well as additional post production services.

New ways of thinking

You can benefit from our open testing philosophy that challenges known solutions. A diverse application expertise combined with decades of experience in innovation support your solutions not going with the norm.
